DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character not mentioned in the description: Reference character "112". Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract contains phrases, which can be implied, such as, "The invention relates (further relates)" in lines 1 and 10. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thomassen ('Telecom overhead cables as antennas for long wave radio signals) submitted by applicant in view of Pennings et al. (WO 01/41325) submitted by applicant.

Re claim 8, Thomassen teaches the use of a single electrical supply line (power line) as a traveling wave antenna.

Thomassen does not teach the supply line being passed into or out of an electrical installation cabinet and that the single supply line being used for a radio transmitter mounted inside the installation cabinet.

Pennings teaches the automatic reading device is in a form which renders it suitable for the use as a radio transmitter mounted inside an installation cabinet (fuse box) and that a single electrical supply line (power line) being used to transfer a telecommunication signal RF (Fig. 1; page 2, line 23 to page 3, line 24; page 6, lines 25-30 and page 8, lines 25-28).

It would have been within a skill of an artisan at the time the invention was made to apply the teaching of Penning in view of Thomassen for the purpose of transferring RF signal to a remote location.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-7 are allowed.

6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record fail to teach or suggest, alone or in combination, the following limitations: "connector devices for connecting the first conductor to a first point on the supply line; and the second conductor to a second point on the supply line" in a manner claimed in claims 1 and 6. It is for this reason in combination with all the other limitations in the independent claims 1 and 6, that claims 1-7 are allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. de Buda (US 6,549,120) ; Welch et al. (US 6,262,685); Meek et al. (US 5,621,419); and Whyte et al. (US 4,142,178); also teach similar inventive subject matter.
